

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Iron Mountain Hot Springs Wraps Up Successful First Year

Glenwood Springs, Colo. (August 19, 2016) — The Iron Mountain Hot Springs in Glenwood Springs, Colorado, recently celebrated its first anniversary. It was a busy and successful year at Glenwood’s newest wellness destination, which features 16 thermal mineral water soaking pools and a freshwater family pool and jetted spa on the bank of the Colorado River.

“The past year has truly been a whirlwind of activity,” said Steve Beckley, co-owner at Iron Mountain Hot Springs. “We’ve listened to customer feedback, which has led to some big improvements and additions. The response has been overwhelmingly positive.”

The first upgrade was to replace all of the keyed locks on the lockers for key pads. Now, customers can choose their own four-digit PINs without having to worry about keeping track of, and returning, the keys. The use of a locker is included in the price of admission.

As the attendance grew at the new Iron Mountain Hot Springs, so did the need for more space in the locker rooms. Plans to expand were underway quickly. Construction started during the winter and was completed in time for Memorial Weekend. Both the men’s and women’s facilities were doubled in size, providing private dressing rooms, additional seating and more elbow room.

The Sand Bar, which opened on July 2, serves all of the drinks available in the Sopris Café along with some grab-and-go snacks. It’s located at the opposite end of the property from the cafe, next to the soaking pools, and now there’s a convenient place to find a drink or snack from any spot.

“We continue to improve our guest experience each and every day, and it shows in our number one ranking in the spas and wellness category on TripAdvisor.com. From the keyless lockers, to the expanded locker room facilities, to the newly opened Sand Bar, our facility has grown and adapted to meet the expectations of our guests from all over the world,” said Michael Besaw, general manager.

Loyal customers have also asked for annual passes so that they can visit anytime throughout the year, and that wish will soon be granted. The seasonal passes, which are valid from the day after Labor Day until the day before Memorial Day weekend, will still be available as well.

- more -

Co-owner Mogli Cooper added, “I’m so proud of what the Iron Mountain Hot Springs has grown into during its first year. It’s another jewel in the crown of Glenwood Springs. That’s in large part thanks to our staff; they’ve taken ownership in, nurtured and cared for it. It’s a very special place.”

Visitors can find more information about visiting the Iron Mountain Hot Springs in Glenwood Springs, Colorado, online at <http://www.ironmountainhotsprings> or by calling 970-945-4766.

###

Media Contact

Mandy Gauldin | 970-379-5277 | mandy@peakcomm.biz | @mandygauldin | @IronMtnHotSprgs

About the Iron Mountain Hot Springs

281 Centennial Drive, Glenwood Springs, CO 81601 | 970-945-IRON (4766) | www.IronMountainHotSprings.com

The Iron Mountain Hot Springs is a new wellness destination on the bank of the Colorado River in Glenwood Springs. Soaking options include 16 mineral water pools, with temperatures ranging from 99 to 108°F, and a freshwater family pool with a whirlpool spa. The bathhouse features locker rooms, family changing rooms and a retail shop. The Sopris Café serves snacks, meals and drinks.